Electro Dermal Screening (EDS: Bio Energetic Testing)

One can travel throughout the world observing Electro-Dermal Screening techniques and never find one more knowledgeable or helpful than Denise Chambul. As the Arthritis Trust publications have many times stated, Electro Dermal Tests and/or Kinesiology are two extremely valuable methods of non-invasive diagnosis -- but, their value can only be measured in terms of knowing the right questions to ask!

Denise Chambul is among the first ranks in posing the right questions!!

What Is EDS? Electro Dermal Screening uses a computer-based instrument which measures the energy of the body using acupuncture meridian point readings. This modern technology provides a new and highly accurate method for determining the energetic causes of allergies and ailments.

What Can EDS Do? EDS can identify chemicals, pesticides, herbicides, materials in EDS can also energetic agents in the well the en-functioning. allergies and best suited to biochemical should be taken away EDS can environmen-heavy metals mercury, aluminum, and other types of allergies to yeast, fungus, and molds. EDS will also indicate any vitamin or mineral imbalances.

How Does EDS Work? The computer measures the degree of electrical resistance of the various acupuncture points, generally on the hands and feet. These measurements indicate the balances or imbalances of the various organ systems of the body, and can also detect low level reactions in the body. It also indicates which nutritional or homeopathic remedy(s) and its exact potency which will bring about an energy balance. EDS testing can also monitor the patient's progress. There are no side or after-effects with proper use of electro-diagnosis and therapy. No piercing of the skin, no discomfort and no electrical impulses are felt during testing. The only clothing that must be removed are your shoes and socks.

Who Can Benefit From EDS? Anyone wanting to improve the overall quality of their health and life will benefit from this testing.

Denise Chambul will demonstrate EDS.

Applied Kinesiology (AK)

Applied Kinesiology (AK), developed by Dr. George Goodheart in 1964, uses bioenergetic feedback through testing the strength of various muscles in the body. This highly individualized, in-depth system of analysis, allows the doctor to assess various aspects of a patient's state of health by evaluating and treating postural and muscular imbalances, neurovascular and neurolymphatic points, subluxation, cranial-sacral movement, acupuncture and nutritional highly effective which focuses care.

This is a highly effective treatment system which focuses on whole body care. AK enables health investigation without intrusion. AK gives insight into the underlying causes and solutions to many functional health problems.

Dr. Luby Chambul will demonstrate AK!
